Don't Try This at Home: TV vs. Reality

TV often portrays events that are impossible in real life. Superheroes and villains fly through the air. Cartoon characters fall from great heights, then get up, and walk. This can distort our views of reality and encourage us to try things that might hurt or kill us. Remember something that you saw on TV recently that would be impossible in real life. Color a picture and describe the event that you saw on TV. Then color a picture and describe what would happen in real life.

Draw a picture of an unrealistic event that you saw on TV.
